THE BROOM RE-INVENTED

One Pass Floor Blade Cuts Clean Up Time In Half

Hollister, CA — Don't cry over spilled milk... clean it up in one pass with the revolutionary One Pass Floor Blade. Nothing works as effectively when it comes to collecting debris and fluid in one easy pass. Shards of broken glass, liquids, mud tracked in from the outside... makes no difference, just One Pass it! Think of it as the broom re-invented, the One Pass Floor Blade works for wet and dry.

"I originally developed the blade as a squeegee for high end paint jobs and car windows back in 1996," explains inventor Don Varner. "But didn't take long for family and friends to figure out how well it works everywhere else, too. The Floor Blade has been specifically redesigned for the home."

Save time and save money, skip the absorbent and the hassle of a wet/dry vacuum! Perfect for the kitchen or the garage to make short work of spilled lubricants or solvents. Durable enough to use on concrete, gentle enough for delicate tile and grout, the Floor Blade design works on all surfaces and is safe for use with all household cleaners.

"The patented Y-Blade edge conforms to surface irregularities," adds Varner. The food grade silicone blade is safe to use in temperature extremes from -80 to +400 degrees f. "When you're done, the patented silicone blade simply wipes clean."

About One Pass USA — One Pass founder Don Varner is a professional innovator, inveterate tinkerer and legend in the automotive world. Hot rod enthusiasts might recognize him as the designer behind such famous custom 'Rods as El Matador, Silhouette and The California Star. Varner turned the custom world on its ear back in 1984 when California Star took top honors at the Grand National Oakland Roadster Show. Despite enormous controversy, Don's version of the classic 1927 Model T earned the title "World's Most Beautiful Roadster" and cemented his place in the automotive world. It was this kind of disruptive solution that brought the original Water Blade into existence, upending the car care world in the process. That sounds a bit dramatic, but take a look at how many copies have hit the market since and you'll see what we mean. When we released the first Water Blade in 1996, it was called the "Original California Water Blade" — now it's simply Original Water Blade. Don takes enormous pride in every product he designs, so you know if it bears the One Pass name, it's a game changer!
